

We all know that around the turn of the last century, terrible wildfires plagued forested states, 1903 in New York and Maine, 1910 in the northern Rockies. But that was the old days –these things can't happen again, right?

So, answer this --

In what year did the following events occur:

Second worst fire in the history of Georgia

Honey Prairie complex, 309,000 acres

Six of the ten largest forest and range fires in Texas history

West Texas rangelands,

E. Texas forest fires

Austin Texas suburbs – several thousand homes lost

Largest forest fire in Minnesota in 80 years

Pagami Crk fire, 100,000 acres

Largest forest fire in Arizona history

Wallow fire, 538,000 acres plus 15,000 in NM.

YOU GUESSED IT – these all occurred in 2011!
